

Danielle King

Animator, Artist, Cartoonist

Danielle King grew up 15 minutes north of Winnipeg in the rural municipality, St. Clements. She spent many winters out in the -40 C weather star gazing and fort building.

In 2010 Danielle started ZenFri Inc. with her husband. The company uses traditional and digital frontiers to craft new ways of telling stories, spreading innovative ideas, and exploring the great circumstance we all find ourselves in.

Her most recent achievement has been an animated motion-media project entitled Infinite Struggles. It has been playing across Winnipeg and Canada, some screenings being the aluCine Festival in Toronto, the Gimli Film Festival, Winnipeg Film Group Membership Screening, University of Winnipeg Film Festival (Best Animation Award, 2011), was a finalist at the CPAM Tunnel Vision, and had a two-week solo show in the GoSA Gallery. There was a write-up and interview in the Winnipeg Free Press, September 4th, 2010.
